- (d) the services are electronic services delivered to a person in Samoa at the time of supply;
- (e) the supply is a transfer or assignment of, or grant of a right to use, a copyright, patent, trademark, or similar right in Samoa; or
- (f) the services are telecommunications services and the supply is initiated by a person in Samoa at the time of supply, other than a supply initiated by—
 - (i) a supplier of telecommunications services; or
 - (ii) a person who is global roaming while temporarily in Samoa.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (2)(f), the person who initiates a supply of telecommunications services is the person who appears first in the following paragraphs:

- (a) the person who—
 - (i) controls the commencement of the supply;
 - (ii) pays for the services; or
 - (iii) contracts for the supply; or
- (b) the person to whom the invoice for the supply is sent.

(4) In this section, “electronic services” means the development or maintenance of, or access to, any of the following when provided or delivered on or through a telecommunications network:

- (a) websites, web-hosting, or remote maintenance of programs and equipment;
- (b) software and its updating;

- (d) databases;
- (e) self-education packages;
- (f) music, films, and games, including games of chance;
- (g) any broadcasts or events, including any political, cultural, artistic, sporting, scientific broadcasts, including broadcast television.

18. Value of a supply - (1) Subject to this Act, the value of a supply is the price of the supply.

(2) If:

- (a) no price is charged on a taxable supply made by a registered person to an associate or the price is less than the fair market value of the supply; and
- (b) the recipient of the supply is not entitled to an input tax credit for whole of the input tax payable in respect of the supply, the value of the supply is the fair market value of the supply determined at the time of supply.

(3) Except as provided in this Act, if no price is charged for a supply, the value of the supply is zero.

(4) If a taxable supply is made by a registered person without a separate amount being identified as GST, the value of the supply is computed using the following formula:

$$A - (A \times B)$$

where—

A is the total amount charged for the supply; and

B is the tax fraction.

(5) If goods and services are, or are taken to be, supplied by any public authority:

(a) pursuant to paragraph (b)(i) of the definition of “supply of services” in section 6, the value of the supply is an amount equal to any amount from time to time paid by the Government to or on behalf of that public authority for that supply; or

(b) pursuant to paragraph (b)(i) of the definition of “supply of services” in section 6, the value of the supply is an amount equal to any amount that is from time to time brought to charge as revenue from the Government in respect of the supply of outputs by that public authority.

(6) If a supply of services is taken to be made within the meaning of the definition of “supply of services” in section 6, the value of the supply is so much of the amount in money a person pays to participate in a game of chance or lottery, as represents the total proceeds (after deducting the amount of all prizes paid and payable in money) of the game of chance or lottery.

19. Value of a supply of imported services - (1) Subject to subsection (2), the value of a supply of imported services:

- (a) if the supplier and recipient are associates, is the fair market value of the supply at the time of supply; or
- (b) in any other case, is the price of the supply.

(2) If a registered person, liable for GST under section 8(1)(c) for the supply of imported services, would have been entitled to a credit for part of the amount of input tax payable if the person had acquired the services in a creditable acquisition, the value of the supply under subsection (1) is reduced by an amount equal to the proportion of the input tax that would have been creditable.

(3) A registered person liable for GST under section 8(1)(c) for a supply of imported services must prepare a recipient-created tax invoice in the approved form for the supply.

Division 2 - Special rules

20. Application of goods to private or exempt use - (1) The application of goods by a registered person to a private or exempt use is deemed to be a taxable supply made by the person, but only if the person has been allowed an input tax credit for the acquisition or import of the goods.

(2) A taxable supply under subsection (1) is deemed to have been made by the registered person at the time that the goods are first applied to private or exempt use and the person is taken to have received, at that time, an amount of output tax equal to the amount of input tax credit allowed to the person in respect of the acquisition or import of the goods.

(3) In this section, “exempt use” means the use of goods or services to make an exempt supply.

21. Second-hand goods - (1) This section applies if the following conditions are satisfied:

- (a) a taxable supply of second-hand goods has been made by a registered person who is a second-hand goods supplier;
- (b) the second-hand goods were purchased by the registered person from a person who is not a registered person;
- (c) the supply of the second-hand goods to the registered person would not have been an exempt or zero-rated supply if the supplier of the goods to the registered person was also a registered person;

- (d) the supply of the second hand goods to the registered person was not an import; and
 - (e) the second-hand goods were supplied by the registered person in substantially the same state as they were in when purchased by the registered person.
- (2) If subsection (1) applies:
- (a) the registered person is taken to have paid an amount of input tax for the acquisition of the second-hand goods equal to the tax fraction of the price paid for the second-hand goods; and
 - (b) the registered person is allowed an input tax credit for the deemed input tax under paragraph (a) in the GST period in which the time of supply by the registered person of the second-hand goods occurs.
- (3) If a second-hand goods supplier receives second-hand goods (“traded-in goods”) as part payment for a supply the supplier makes to a person who is not registered, the fair market value of the traded-in goods used to determine the price for the supply is to be the same as the fair market value used to determine the price paid by the dealer to purchase the traded-in goods.
- (4) In this section:
- “second-hand goods” means goods that have previously been used by a person who is not a registered person;
 - “second-hand goods supplier” means a registered person whose taxable activity principally involves the re-supply of second-hand goods in substantially the same state as they were in when purchased by the person.

22. Rights, options, and vouchers - (1) If:

- (a) the supply of a right or option was a taxable supply; and
 - (b) another supply (“subsequent supply”) is made on the exercise of the right or option,
- the price for the subsequent supply is limited to the additional price, if any, given for the subsequent supply or in connection with the exercise of the right or option.
- (2) The issue of a voucher is not a supply if the voucher:
- (a) entitles the holder to receive supplies of goods or services up to a monetary amount on redemption of the voucher; and
 - (b) is issued for an amount in money.

(3) If a voucher referred to in subsection (2) is redeemed for a taxable supply by a registered person, the amount referred to in subsection (2)(b) is treated as comprising the following two (2) components:

- (a) an amount as the price or part of the price for the supply calculated as the amount referred to in subsection (2)(b) reduced by the tax fraction of that amount; and
- (b) an amount as the GST or part of the GST payable for the supply calculated as the tax fraction of the amount referred to in subsection (2)(b).

(4) If:

- (a) a registered person issues a voucher for no charge;
- (b) the voucher entitles the holder to a discount on the price of goods or services supplied by another person; and
- (c) the voucher is redeemed for a taxable supply, the price of the supply includes the monetary value of the voucher reduced by an amount equal to the monetary value multiplied by the tax fraction.

(5) A registered person is entitled to an input tax credit in respect of any amount paid to a supplier for the redemption by the supplier of a voucher referred to in subsection (4).

(6) The amount of the input tax credit referred to in subsection (5) is the amount paid to the supplier multiplied by the tax fraction and the input tax credit is allowed in the GST period in which the amount is paid to the supplier.

(7) A supply of telecommunications services through the use of a phone card acquired in Samoa that can be used either in or outside Samoa occurs at the time the phone calls are made with the card.

(8) In this section:

“phone card”:

- (a) means a card or similar item in whatever form it is issued, including electronically, that entitles the holder to receive telecommunications services up to its face value; and
- (b) includes a pre-paid Subscriber Identity Module (“SIM”) card, a rechargeable card, or a similar item.

“voucher”:

- (a) means a voucher, stamp, token, coupon, or similar article, including an article issued electronically, that can be redeemed by the holder only for supplies of goods or services; and
- (b) includes a phone card; but
- (c) does not include a postage stamp.

23. Lay-by sales - (1) A supply of goods under a lay-by agreement occurs on the date the goods are delivered to the purchaser and the output tax payable for the supply is treated as received on that date.

(2) If a lay-by agreement is cancelled and the seller retains any amount paid by the purchaser or recovers any amount owing by the purchaser under the agreement:

- (a) the cancellation of the agreement is a supply of services by the seller at the time of cancellation; and
- (b) the value of the supply –
 - (i) if the seller is a registered person at the time of cancellation, is the amount retained or recovered by the seller reduced by an amount equal to the amount retained or recovered multiplied by the tax fraction; or
 - (ii) in any other case, is the amount retained or recovered by the seller.

(3) In this section, “lay-by agreement” means a purchase agreement for goods under which:

- (a) the price is payable by at least one additional payment after the payment of a deposit;
- (b) delivery of the goods takes place at any time after payment of the deposit; and
- (c) ownership of the goods is transferred by delivery.

PART 5 IMPORTS

- (a) if the goods are under Customs control, on the date on which the goods are entered for use in Samoa or otherwise cease to be under Customs control as determined under the Customs Act; or

(b) in any other case, on the date the goods are brought into Samoa.

(2) In this section, “entered”, in relation to an import of goods, has the same meaning as “entry” under the Customs Act.

25. Value of import - (1) Subject to subsection (2), the value of an import of goods is the sum of the following amounts:

(a) the customs value of the goods as determined under the Customs Act, whether or not any duty is payable on the import;

(b) to the extent not included under paragraph (a), the cost of services treated as part of the import of the goods under section 14(1)(b), including the cost of freight or insurance in transporting the goods to Samoa;

(c) the amount of any import duty, excise tax, levy, or other fiscal charge (other than GST), or any fee or other charge payable for the import.

(2) When goods are re-imported after being exported for the purpose of undergoing repair, renovation, or improvement, the value of the import is the amount of the increase in value of the goods as a result of the repair, renovation, or improvement if:

(a) the form or character of the goods has not changed; and

(b) ownership of the goods has not changed since the goods were exported.

PART 6 INPUT TAX CREDITS

26. Allowance of an input tax credit - (1) Subject to this Act, a registered person is allowed a credit for the input tax imposed on a creditable acquisition by the person to the extent that the acquisition was for the purpose of making taxable supplies as determined at the time of the acquisition.

(2) Subject to subsection (3), an input tax credit is allowed in the GST period in which the input tax is paid.

(3) If, at the time a registered person files a GST return for a GST period in which an input tax credit would otherwise be allowable under this Act, the person does not hold the documentation referred to in subsection (4), the input tax credit is not allowed in that GST period but instead is allowed in the first GST period in which the person holds the documentation.

(4) The documentation required for the purposes of subsection (3) is:

- (a) for a creditable acquisition that is a taxable import, a bill of lading and all of the documents required under section 64(1) of the Customs Act, relevant to the import;
- (b) for a creditable acquisition that is a taxable supply, the tax invoice for the taxable supply to which the acquisition relates;
- (c) for an input tax credit allowed for input tax allowed under section 28(2), the debit note; or
- (d) for an input tax credit allowed under section 28(3), a copy of the credit note.

27. Input tax credit for newly registered person - (1)

Subject to this Act, a registered person may claim, in the first GST return filed by the person after being registered, an input tax credit determined under this section and section 26 for the input tax paid for the goods held at the date of registration for the purpose of making taxable supplies, if:

- (a) at the end of the last day before the date of the person's registration, the person held the goods as inventory;
- (b) the inventory was acquired by the person in a creditable acquisition;
- (c) the acquisition occurred no more than 4 months prior to the date of registration; and
- (d) the person can provide documentary evidence satisfactory to the Commissioner that input tax has been paid on the acquisition.

(2) Section 26(3) does not apply to an input tax credit allowed under this section.

PART 7
POST-SUPPLY ADJUSTMENTS

28. Post-supply adjustments - (1) If:

- (a) an adjustment event occurs to a taxable supply; and

(b) the GST properly chargeable for the supply exceeds the GST actually accounted for by the supplier, the excess is taken to be output tax received by the supplier in the GST period when the event occurred.

(2) If:

(a) subsection (1) applies; and

(b) the supplier has issued a debit note,

the recipient is allowed an input tax credit for the additional GST specified in the debit note in the GST period when the debit note is received.

(3) Subject to subsection (5), if:

(a) an adjustment event occurs to a taxable supply; and

(b) the GST actually accounted for by the supplier exceeds the GST properly chargeable for the supply, the supplier is allowed an input tax credit for the amount of the excess in the GST period when the event occurred.

(4) If:

(a) subsection (3) applies; and

(b) the supplier has issued a credit note,

the additional GST specified in the credit note is deemed to be output tax received by the recipient in the GST period when the credit note is received.

(5) If the recipient of a supply to which subsection (3) applies is not a registered person, an input tax credit is not allowed under that subsection until the supplier has repaid the excess GST to the recipient of the supply, whether in cash or as a credit against any amount owing to the supplier by the recipient.

(6) The following are adjustment events for the purposes of this section:

(a) the cancellation of a supply;

(b) a fundamental alteration in the nature of a supply;
